The aim of this programme is to expose journalists to other media institutions within the region to exchange expertise, skills, ideas and culture. It is also an avenue for establishing a network of skilled journalists, able to share and discuss experiences for the betterment of their profession. This programme will also avail exchange programme participants access to different types of democracies within the region and to further gain better understanding of governance in SADC. Through this programme it is hoped that journalists will gain experience different from their own house styles and be able to disseminate what they learn to colleagues upon their return home. <!--
